As a Sociology Major, you will meet both Quantitative Reasoning requirements with core courses for your major: SOC 280: Intro to Social Statistics (taken Freshman year or first semester sophomore year) and SOC 380: Social Research Methods (usually taken Junior year). So, you will not need to select any options for this General Education category.

Please review the Composition I requirement to understand how placement is made. If your UIN (University ID Number) ends in an even number or your placement requires two semesters to complete the requirement, you will be taking this requirement in the first semester. If your placement requires only one semester to complete the requirement AND your UIN ends in an odd number, you will take this requirement second semester.

Please review the Non-Primary Language Requirement at the bottom of the link to determine if you need to take a Language Other than English. If so, please take the placement test in advance or select a new language to begin from the first level.
